Subject: Amtrak Beech Grove Indiana railroad shops / maintenance facility

Hello,

I am trying to help a gentleman who worked at the Amtrak railroad shops in Beech Grove, Indiana, for over 30 years. He was diagnosed with terminal cancer due to his exposure to asbestos material.

The Amtrak Beech Grove maintenance facility's address is either 202 Garstang Street, Beech Grove, Indiana 46107, or 202 Walter A. Barricade Way, Beech Grove, Indiana 46107. The shops are known as the "Beech Grove Shops" or the "Amtrak Beech Grove Maintenance Facility" or a similar variation. The maintenance facility used to be known as New York Central ('22-'68) and Penn Central ('68-75), but asbestos abatement didn't occur until after Amtrak bought the railroad in 1975.

This is a formal request for all documents involving asbestos from 1975 to the present. Due to our client's poor health, can you expedite this request for information?

Respectfully,

Lenore West
